

WE COME AS A PAIR

Written by
Jamie Fenn &
Atwood Cohoon Gallego

Illustrated by
Olivia Patiakas

Acknowledgments

This Project was funded in part by Indigenous Services Canada

National Collaborating Centre
for Indigenous Health

THE HEALTH ARTS
RESEARCH CENTRE

This Book is Dedicated
To Our Future Kids

Hi, I'm Dorito
and I'm a Labrador Retriever

Here I am, letting mom know that it's time to take her ADHD meds,

and that's why...

we come as a pair

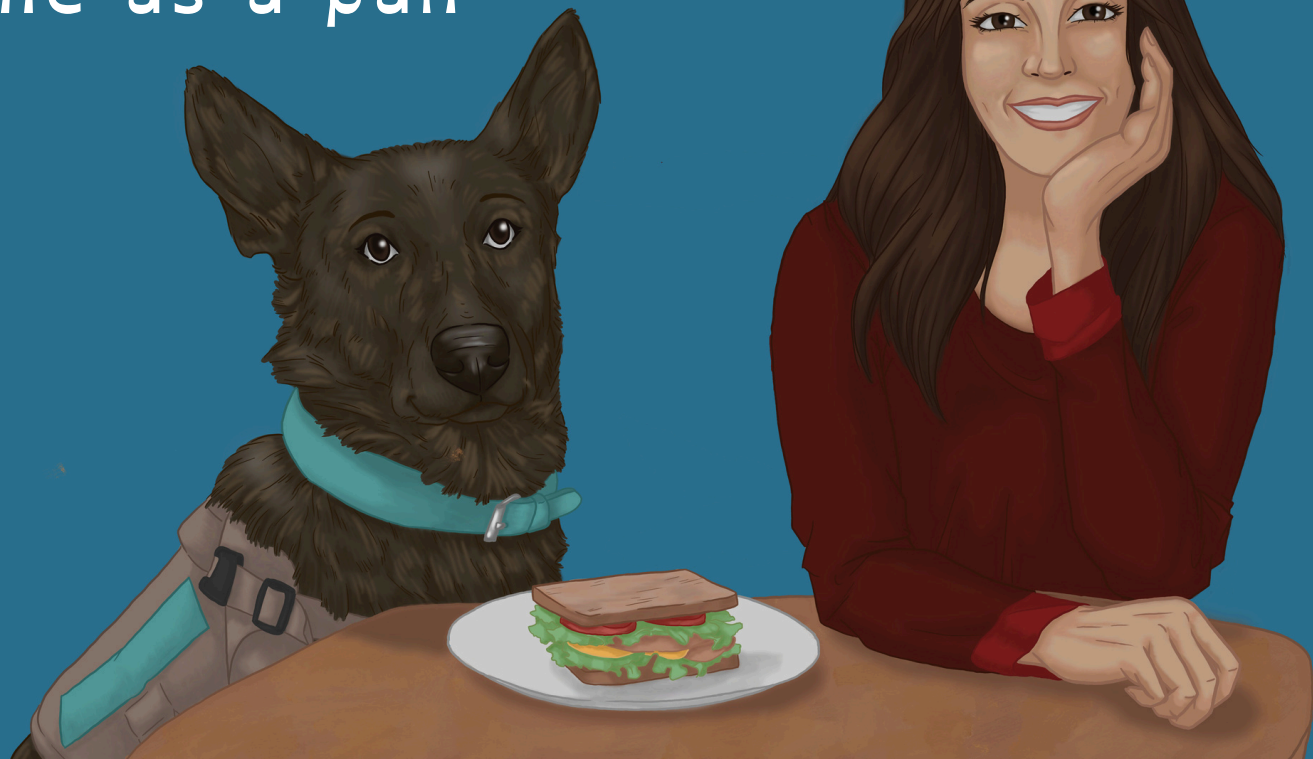

Hi, I'm Bravo and I'm a
German Shepherd

Here I am using my nose, making sure there are no walnuts in my mom's food and it is safe for her to
eat,

and that's why...

we come as a pair

Hi, I'm Mia
and I'm a Labrador Retriever

Here I am,
Leading my mom out
of overwhelming
situations to a safe
space,

and that's why...

we come as a pair

Hi, I'm Fawkes
and I'm a Nova Scotia Duck
Tolling Retriever

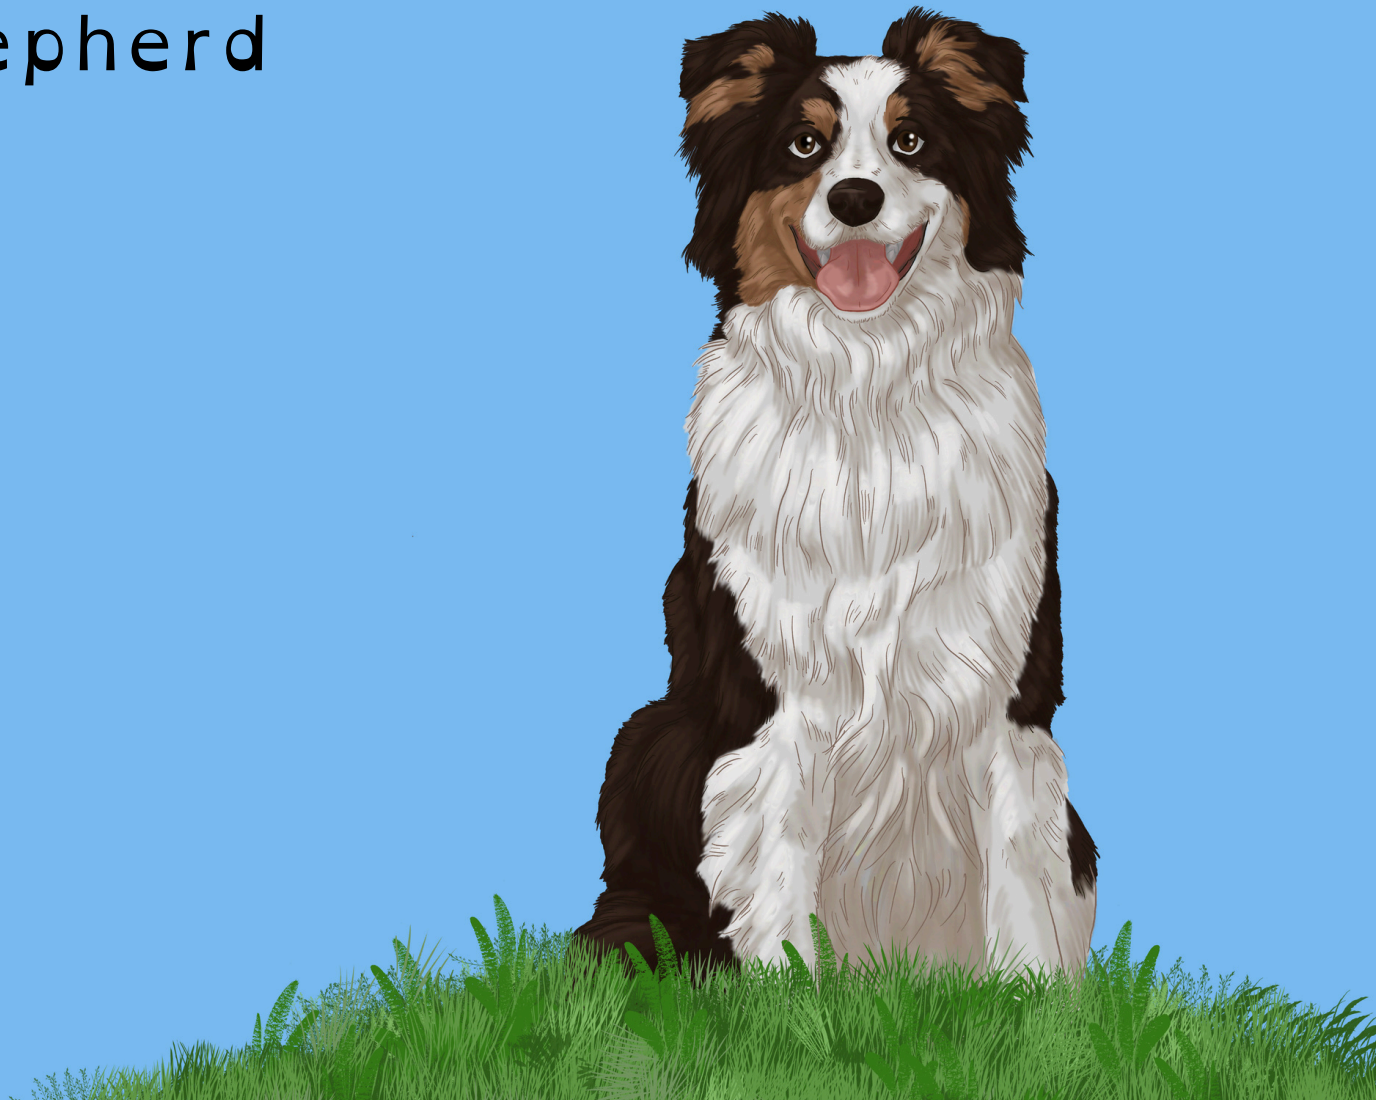

Here I am,
helping my mom clear
her head when she
starts to panic,

and that's why...

we come as a pair

Hi, I'm Dipper
and I'm an Australian Shepherd

Here I am,
letting my dad know when someone is coming. He always seems to get scared when I don't,

and that's why...

we come as a pair

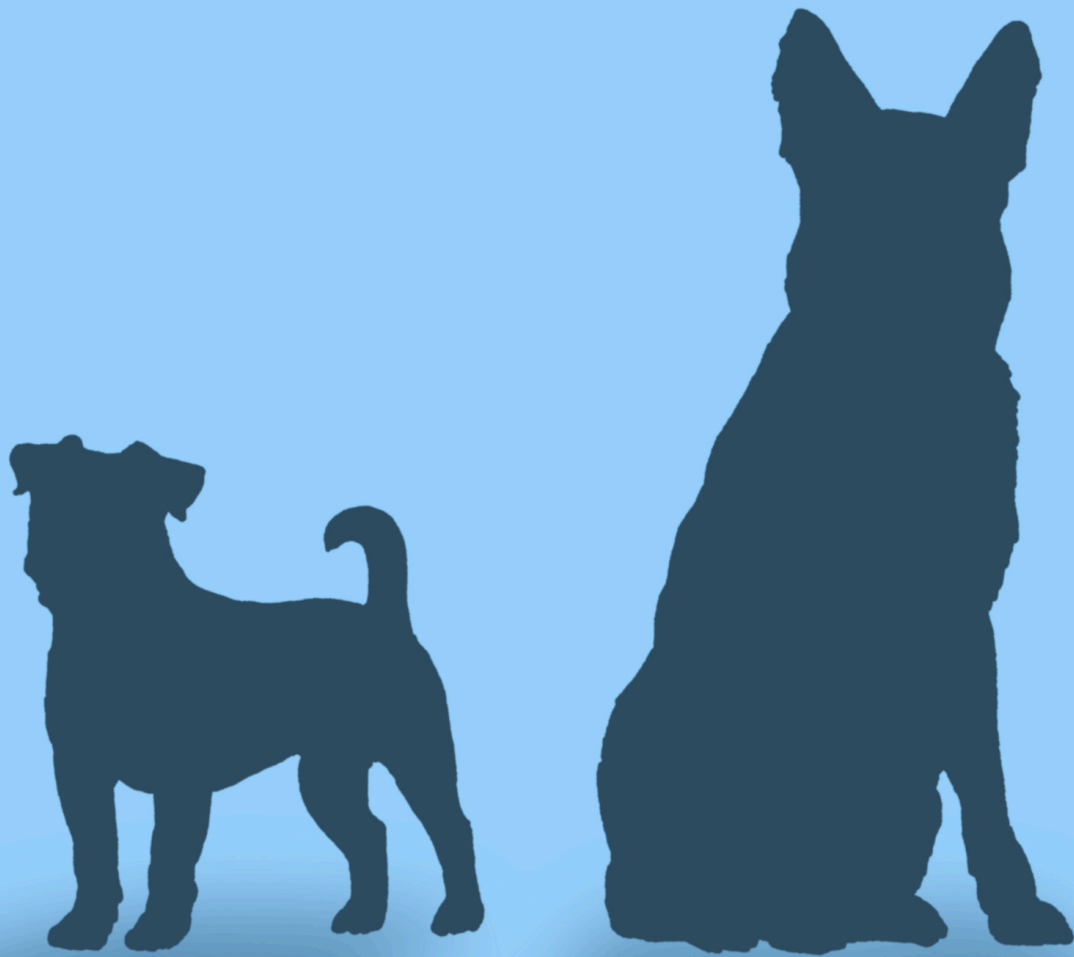

When you see a dog wearing a special vest, that means the dog is working.

We should keep our hands and our voices to ourselves because they're busy helping someone.
They need to pay attention to their job to keep their person safe.

Service dogs come in all shapes and sizes just like people. They help with tasks big and small!
and that's why...

We Come As A Pair

authors

Jamie Fenn is an aspiring service dog trainer in Terrace, BC. She's been training dogs for 2 years and owner-trained their first dog Dipper and their second, Fawkes.

Atwood Cohoon is an engineering technician who loves solving problems and fixing things.

illustrator

Olivia Patiakas is a professional dancer who has performed in New York City, Vancouver and several cities throughout North America and Europe. She began studying fine arts as a child and has grown up painting and drawing when she's not in the studio practicing.